PROFILE

I'm Sagar Thapa from Sanagau, Lalitpur, a motivated and adaptable Python developer currently in my seventh semester of a Bachelor's in Computer Application (BCA). I focus on Django and enjoy building projects, constantly evolving to meet new challenges. My goal is to master Django and become a full-stack developer while exploring the potential of data science in my career. With a passion for technology, I'm eager to contribute, quick to adapt to new tools, and always excited for opportunities to grow and solve problems

PROJECTS

Task Management System

Developed a robust Task Management System using Django to enhance task creation, assignment, and tracking.

Integrated features include:

- Real-time status updates
- Deadline management
- User authentication
- Predictive analysis using machine learning algorithms to forecast task completion times
- User-friendly and responsive interface
- Supported comprehensive CRUD operations through Django REST Framework.
- Implemented email notifications for user interactions and task updates.
- The entire project is containerized using Docker, ensuring consistent development and production environments.

DRF-Authentication

- "Implemented robust user authentication and authorization using Django Rest Framework (DRF) with JWT (JSON Web Tokens), ensuring secure access control. Developed password change functionality via email verification to enhance user security and usability in Django applications."
